

Many items on the museum grounds have been donated to the museum in honor of, or in memory of loved ones. The Gladys Merrick Memorial Garden was created in memory of Gladys Merrick.

A bench was placed near the large desert willow in memory of Dick and Bernice Boyd.

A bench was also placed by the smoke tree in memory of Rosemary Wisdom Dixon.

A recycling fountain was created in memory of Sue Byrd.

The popular human sundial was created in memory of Bill Faith.

The “Seat of Knowledge” was placed in the garden in honor of former curator Elva Younkin.
